When George entered the library in the fall, he "was struggling to control an inward trembling." Why do you think he reacts this way? Give information from the story to support your answer.

Thinking skill I chose: Inferring OR Explaining Cause and Effect ANSWER: I think George started trembling, because he was very excited about taking control of his life for the first time. In the past, he was lazy being responsible and just sat around and did nothing all day. Now that he is actually taking steps to improve his life. As a result, he started shaking from the excitement of doing something positive for once.

13. At the end of the novel, Laurie says to David: "... there were good things about The Wave. It couldn't be all bad, or no one would have joined in the first place." Discuss. Give information from the novel to support your answer.

ANSWER: While the experiment ultimately did have some horrible consequences, some good things did come out of it. Some students became more involved in school activities, and others gained more self-confidence after joining The Wave. Since all of the students are all equal in The Wave, students felt as though they didn't have to compete with other students for who is more popular anymore.

4. For this question, choose ONE of the thinking skills from the Appendix (מספח) on page 12 OR any thinking skill studied in class. Use this thinking skill when answering the question. (10 points for the content of the answer, 5 points for the correct use of the thinking skill)

Ben tells his wife, "... even a game is something you either choose to play or not to play." Describe how the personalities of Robert and Laurie affect their choices during The Wave experiment. Give information from the novel to support your answer.

Thinking skill I chose. Explaining Cause and Effect OR Distinguishing Different Perspectives.

ANSWER: Robert and Laurie are very different people who each react very differently when The Wave experiment first starts.

Robert was a very lonely, unpopular kid who always wanted to be accepted. Once this opportunity came along that allowed him to join a group of his peers and be accepted by them, he immediately joined wholeheartedly. Laurie, on the other hand, is an independent thinker and doesn't look for acceptance from her peers. Therefore, when The Wave experiment started, she was skeptical and spoke out against it when she could.

PART III (20 points)

Answer question for either (15) Mr. Know All OR (16) The Split Cherry Tree OR (17) As I Grew Older OR (18) Count That Day Lost.

Suggested length: 80-100 words.

15. MR. KNOW ÅLL / W. Somerset Maugham

"Somerset Maugham believed that all people are very complex and that each person has many sides." — Adapted from an introduction to "The Collected Stories" by Somerset Maugham

Make a connection between the above quote and the story. Give information from the story to support your answer.

OR:

16. THE SPLIT CHERRY TREE / Jesse Stuart

"Education is not only about knowledge. All teachers can teach facts and figures. However, a true educator teaches values and morals as well." — Jesse Stuart

Make a connection between the above quote and the story. Give information from the story to support your answer.

OR:

17. AS I GREW OLDER / Langston Hughes

"I have discovered in life that there are ways of getting almost anywhere you want to go, if you really want to go." — Langston Hughes

Make a connection between the above quote and the poem. Give information from the poem to support your answer.

OR:

18. COUNT THAT DAY LOST / George Eliot

"We usually judge success by our salaries or the size of our cars, rather than by the way we relate to humanity." —  $Martin\ Luther\ King,\ Jr.$

Make a connection between the above quote and the poem. Give information from the poem to support your answer.

Use this page and the next (pages 9-10) for writing a rough draft.

16. This quote relates to the story, because it discusses the true nature of what it means to be an educator, which is what Professor Herbert exemplifies. When the boys are caught knocking down the cherry tree, he decides he must punish them in some way that will teach them the severity of what they did. When Dave's father shows up threatening him with a gun, he decides to try to show him how to accept other ideas and to be more open-minded. Instead of trying to get him kicked out of the school, he teaches him the moral way of handling situations like this. Just like the quote says, Professor Herbert teaches Dave and his father values and morals and focuses less on simple facts.

18. The poem "Count That Day Lost" is about making the most of every day and creating the most meaning in life as you can. The way to have a meaningful life is to help others and to be kind as much as possible. Therefore, when Martin Luther King Jr. says that success is judged by the way we relate to humanity, he is conveying the same message that George Eliot is explaining in his poem. The only way to really see how successful someone is in life is to see how they treat others and if they have many "days lost" or not.
